Dear Steve

As you may know, I have chosen Epistolary literature as the topic of my Senior Theme. If you are unaware, I apologize because that would mean you have spent quite a few days in the dark, literally and figuratively, as Mac and Helena and I chatter away in front of you discussing and lamenting the profect overall. I am writing to officially request your participation in my project. Please forgive the late notification. Your efforts will be greatly appreciated should you choose to participate.

your friend, Ann

Ann

P.S. You look amazing in green.
